PLAN TO BUILD NEW HI SCHOOL IS ABANDONED

Wright Schoolhouse To Be Repaired By Virginia-Tp School Board

TO COST ONLY $200

Junior High Course Of 2 Years To Be Provided At Great Saving

The agitation for and against the erection of a new school building in Virginia-tp was set at rest Monday evening by the decision of the township board of education to repair the old Wright schoolhouse instead.

It is said the building can be put in good shape at a total cost of $200. When it is repaired it will be used to accommodate junior high school pupils.

At the meeting of the township board of education Monday evening it was reported there would be 16 eighth grade pupils to graduate this year from the township schools.

Under the new school attendance law, the pupils under 18 years of age are compelled to enter high school. If the pupils are financially handicapped, the board of education of the township is required to furnish tuition books and board. It was estimated that this would cost the township approximately $1,500 a year.

By arranging for a junior high school in the township with a two year high school course, this expense can be avoided.

It was also reported that the state had offered to furnish books and a teacher for the junior high school, providing the township board of education found a suitable location for the school.

The old Wright schoolhouse has been abandoned for three years. It is centrally located, and with the expenditure of $200 it is thot that the building can be put in excellent shape.

If the decision of the schoolboard proves practicable, it will mean a saving of several thousand dollars to the taxpayers of that township.

ENGLAND'S GEORGES AREN'T WORRIED OVER OUTCOME OF "DIE HARD" CRISIS

England's "two Georges," as they are often referred to, don't seem to be worried over the outcome of the crisis caused by the opposition of Sir George Younger and his Unionist associates. Lloyd George has made it plain to friends that he will not recede from his present policies as a result of the attack. And those who know the premier, including King George, believe he will remain master of the situation.

TANGLES OF PHRASEOLOGY HOLD BACK BONUS BILL, EXPLANATION OFFERED BY CHAIRMAN FORDNEY

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—Dependents and heirs of veterans who have died since the armistice will not share in the bonus payments to be provided for ex-soldiers in the bill to be reported to the house this afternoon. This decision was reached today by the Republicans of the house ways and means committee after it was figured that such a provision would add $25,000,000 as a direct charge against the treasury on the undertaking when the bonus bill is enacted.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7. — Denying that they are having any trouble over the provisions of the soldiers' bonus bill which is being whipped into shape for presentation to the house, Republican members of the ways and means committee tried again to smooth out several tangles of phraseology which are holding up the legislation temporarily.

Chairman Fordney of the committee was of the opinion that work on the bill would not be completed by the Republicans during the day so he called off the meeting with Democratic member to consider the measure in the form in which it will be laid before the house. This meeting may not be held before tomorrow or Thursday.

The Republican committeemen said today that the provisions of the bill meet with their unanimous approval, but they have been unable to reach a final agreement on the new section giving advantages of the new bonus plan to the next of kin of veterans who have died since the armistice.

This provision of the bill was taken up by the committee today, but had to be laid aside in favor of a scheduled hearing. Some exception was taken to the wording of the bill and experts were called in to make the language clear and specific.

JUNKING OF BIG BATTLESHIPS IS NOT FOR ECONOMY SAYS SENATOR KING

Money Saved On Capital Ships Will Be Spent On Other Weapons

SUGGESTS BIG MINES

Says Navy Will Spend At Least $300,000,000 A Yr. For Defense

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—A rude awakening for those who dream of national economy under the naval disarmament treaty was predicted today by Senator King, Democrat of Utah. King branded as folly, all promises of reductions in national expenditures under the disarmament plan. He declared the United States navy would spend upwards of $300,000,000 a year on developing other means of national defense while dismantling its capital ships.

While opposing an alliance with foreign powers, King said he probably would vote for the pact, if it is the best that can be obtained.

"Americans will be greatly disappointed in the operation of the navy disarmament plan," said King. "Those who dream of great national economy are due for a rude awakening. This nation will spend upward of $300,000,000 a year on developing other means of national defense while dismantling capital ships under the treaty clauses.

"What the United States saves in capital ships she will spend on airplanes, destropers, subs, torpedo-boats, air plane-carriers and monster mines along with other naval weapons yet to be developed."

King predicted that with capital ships barred the nations would turn to development of some weapon, already known, to such proportions as to rival capital ships. He added that monster mines, capable of going out to sea might be this development.

FINE ASSESSED BY JUSTICE IS SUSTAINED BY COMMON PLEAS

An opinion has been handed down by Judge James Glenn of the common pleas court, sustaining the judgement of Justice E. G. Abbott's court in fining Revells Brothers local confectioners, $50 and costs for manufacturing ice cream without a state license.

Revells Brothers announced Tuesday that they would continue to fight the decree of the justice's court, carrying the case next to the court of appeals

The constitutionality of the law which requires ice cream manufacturers to obtain a state license is being questioned by the confectioners.

The case originated with the refusal of the state dairy and food department to grant the local firm a license. An inspection of the local plant had been made. The Revells ice cream plant is located in the basement of the Paradise confectionery, and is said to be without the required amount of light and ventilation.

A notice was served on the proprietors to provide light and ventilation to meet the state requirements. This was impossible because of the location. The Revells brothers say they would have to move into a new building to comply with the state ruling.

They have a lease on the building they are now in, which runs for several years yet. That it would be infringing upon the terms of their contract to compel them to move and comply with the ice cream law is their contention.

The Revells Brothers were denied a license by the dairy and food division of the department of agriculture, but continued to manufacture ice cream. A charge of manufacturing without a license was placed against them in Squire E. G. Abbott's court by the state inspector. They were found guilty and fined.

The case was taken to the common pleas court on error. The defendants sought to reverse the justice's judgment on the grounds that the affidavit was not sufficiently definite to apprise them of the nature of the charge against them and that the statute defining the alleged crime is in contravention of the national constitution

The case will now be taken to the appellate court on error according to the announcement made Tuesday.

HEAD OF UNION IS INDICTED FOR THE MISUSE OF MONEY

NEW YORK, Mar. 6.—William A. Hogan, financial rerotary, Local No. 3, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, has been indicted on charges of grand larceny in the first degree for alleged manipulation of the union's funds. The indictment is the result of disclosures of Samuel Untermyer, counsel to the Lockwood investigating committee who brot out that Hogan had supervision over a permit plan whereby nonunion men paid $2.50 a week to work with union men. Hogan is charged with having stolen $21,625 from the union's permit money fund.

The testimony before the Lockwood committee brot out that there are between 15,000 and 20,000 electrical workers in New York City, of whom only 3,000 were members of the union. Attempts to join the union were almost always met with the statement that "the books are closed." Then the applicants would be told that they could work on weekly permit cards if they paid $2.50 per week each for journeymen and $1 for helpers. This made $130 a year for journeymen and $52 a year for helpers, while the monthly dues paid by union members were only $2, or $24 a year.

One of the witnesses before the committee, Thomas D. Naughton, testified that the amount collected by the union in these permit fees might well average $5,000 a week, or more than $250,000 a year. Four men were continually busy taking in the special permit receipts. According to Alfred H. Bull, the organization's accountant, no cash book ever was kept with day to day entries; the bookkeeping system was pretty bad, and he had been fooled by the officers who furnished him the date on which to base his audits.

HUGHES RETURNS FROM BERMUDA TO CONSULT HARDING

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—The first business upon the long schedule awaiting Secretary Hughes on his return from Bermuda today was a conference with President Harding on the senate reservations on the various treaties of the late conference.

While President Harding has very definite ideas on the subject of reservations he has let it be known that he will not oppose any provision calculated to reassure those who may have qualms to the United States entering an "entangling alliance."

American experts have worked out what is apparently a satisfactory solution of these problems and the plan was scheduled to have been presented to the senate next week.

With the conference out of the way, the Mexican question is daily looming larger on the diplomatic horizon. Those in close touch with the administration assert President Harding is extremely anxious to bring this matter to a head as soon as possible and it is known Secretary Hughes will give his attention to the recognition of the Obregon government on his return.

Numerous protests from American business men are coming in from Turkey, Palestine, Persia, and Mesopotamia of discrimination by the allied governments against the United States.

LANDIS SPEAKS OF JUSTICE, SACRIFICE, SOLDIERS AND BONUS

APPLETON, WIS., Mar. 6. — "In justice to the 4,000,000 men who in 1917 stood ready to sacrifice their lives for their country the soldiers' bonus should be passed without further delay." Former U. S. District Judge K. M. Landis thus expressed himself on the bonus question here when he addressed 500 members of the American Legion in Wisconsin, his first public address since leaving the federal bench.

Judge Landis decried the concern and alarm with which officials of the government looked on the granting of a cash bonus. "Had the war lasted one month longer than it did, it would haves cost us much more than the bonus. Then let us now take part of that money for the purpose," he proposed.

RAILWAYS ASSAIL EMPLOYES WAGES

CHICAGO, March 6.—Railroads today began a drive to bring down the wages of their employes when hearings on applications for wage reductions by almost every rail transportation system in the country were begun before the United States Railway Labor board.

Nearly all classes of employes are included in some portion of the hearings, except the "Big Four" brotherhoods and the switchmen who are negotiating directly with the roads.

The railroads are endeavoring to take away the remainder of the increases given two years ago.

The last cut allowed by the Labor Board took away a large part of this increase.

Representatives of the employes were on hand as the hearings opened to make a vigorous fight against the reduction of existing wages. B. M Jewell, head of the railway employes department of the A. F. of L. whose membership is affiliated and Attorney Frank P. Walsh will handle the case for the employes.

ILLNESS CHECKS THE POLITICAL FIGHT OF GEORGE AND OPPONENT

After conferring briefly with unionist leaders in the coalition government who are trying to affect a settlement the premier took to his bed suffering from a nervous strain and an old bronchial affection.

Announcement was made today that Premier Lloyd George's physician had ordered him to rest for a fortnight. The premier plans to go to Wales when he is able to travel.

In the meanwhile Austen Chamberlain, government leader in the house will carry on the premier's duties. It is worthy of remark that Mr. Chamberlain is a Unionist (Tory) altho a supporter of Lloyd George.

It was learned today for the first time that the premier actually tendered his resignation to Mr. Chamberlain but the other members of the cabinet urged Lloyd George to reconsider. They pointed out he was in honor bound to carry out the Anglo-Irish treaty and the plans for the Genoa conference.

The bulk of opinion favors Premier Lloyd George remaining in office. A. J. Balfour will deliver an important speech in London tomorrow when he is expected to announce the premier's intentions.

PRESSMEN ACCEPT WAGE REDUCTION

BY HARRY GODFREY

NEW YORK.—The pressmen employed on the New York morning newspapers, after a one-night "vacation," called off their unofficial walkout when a committee of publishers, representing the Publishers' Assn., of New York City, agreed to confer with representatives of Pressmen's Union No. 25 on a modification of the terms announced by Federal Judge Martin T. Manton as arbitrator. Judge Manton's decision, abolishing the six-hour night shift, and giving the publishers complete disposition of press-room assignments, brot about the walkout in spite of the efforts of the officers of the union to prevent it.

All the early editions of the morning papers failed to make their appearance following the one-night vacation, and when the papers finally appeared they were eight-page bulletin editions, without advertising.

Two causes, besides the publishers' promise to confer on modifications of the arbitration award, influenced the pressmen to resume work. The principal one was that the union had bound itself in advance to accept the decision. The other was recollection of the spontaneous pressroom strike in 1919 in the magazine plants of New York City, when the publishers were given prompt and enthusiastic assistance to break the strike by the International Pressmen's union, led by President George L. Berry. The men decided that similar assistance would be tendered by Berry in the present case, in which event they would have had small chance of winning.

The award, while it does not reduce the wages of those who are so fortunate as not to lose their jobs, increases working hours from six to eight, and cuts overtime pay from double time to time and a half.

Buckeye Brevities Gathered By I. N. S.

WOOSTER, Mar. 7.—"Escaping" from the Michigan blizzard, C. A. Robenolte has reached his home here.

"I was snowed in at Pellston, but managed to get a pair of snow shoes and walked 50 miles, over snow from four to ten feet deep, to a point where I caught a train," said Mr. Robenolte. "Unless extremely warm weather sets in, some communities will be isolated for days and, probably, weeks to come."

Mr. Robenolte said that the ice and sleet on a single foot of telephone wire weighed 26 ounces.

DEFIANCE, Mar. 7.—The bill introduced recently in the national house of representatives by Congressman C. J. Thompson, Defiance, calling for an appropriation of $125,000 for a survey of the Toledo-Defiance-Cincinnati barge canal route, with a branch canal from Defiance to Chicago, is regarded here as an effort to definitely eliminate both the Sandusky-Portsmouth and the Pittsburgh-Ashtabula routes which were, also, reported as probably feasible by the appeal board of army engineers recently.

Congressman Thompson's chief argument for the project—in addition to its economic and engineering feasibility—is based on the recent war department ruling that the title of the old Miami and Erie canal property rests solely with the federal government, the state having no power to grant leases because of the terms under which the United States first set the land aside for waterway uses.

LOGAN, Mar. 7.—The first wireless report of a stolen automobile was received here a few days ago over an amateur instrument. The police were notified. A justice of the peace in Green-tp has ordered a radio phone receiving set and has announced he will use it in his criminal work.

MURRAY CITY, Mar. 7.—Earl McCoy, world war veteran, arrested here on a charge of having liquor, fought the case but lost and must pay a fine of $200 and costs. The liquor was found in a car. McCoy claimed the car belonged to his brother.

POMEROY, Mar. 7.—The Masonic bodies of Pomeroy this year will erect a modern temple on the lot between the court house and the armory. The structure will have three stories and will cost about $50,000. Work will start in a few weeks.

CANAANVILLE, Mar. 7—Willard Darnell, a miner out of work eight months, was fined $1300 and costs by Judge Worstell after pleading guilty to three liquor charges. Darnell pleaded for mercy, stating he has a wife and small baby and was trying to support them.

BUCYRUS, Mar. 7.—Regulations relative to truckloads on county highways during the rest of the winter have been prepared by County Surveyor Arch Unekrich. The maximum load, it is said, is fixed at six and one-half tons, instead of ten tons until the advent of spring.

ATHENS, Mar. 7.—A jury deliberated nearly 20 hours in the case of Mrs. Lucy Auflick, Nelsonville, charged with shooting her niece, Mrs. Hazel Burch, with intent to kill, before disagreeing. A family quarrel is said to have caused the shooting.

Mrs. Burch was shot twice, through the head and leg. Scars of both wounds were exhibited to the jury by Mrs. Burch, a pretty young woman. Three small children of Mrs. Auflick played about their mother in the courtroom while the trial progressed, but jurymen with families denied that this feature had anything to do with th edisagreement. Mrs. Auflick probably will be tried again within a few weeks.

AMHERST, Mar. 7.—Oscar Dunn and J. J. Smythe who started the Amherst Weekly News, are opposing each other in the race for state representative from Lorain-co. Dunn is a Republican and Smythe a Democrat. Smythe is mayor and Dunn is former county commissioner.

ELYRIA, Mar. 7.—The weddings of Jennie Cousins and Allen Nead and Sue Cousins and Percy Nead, brothers and sisters, were solemnized four days apart. The sisters are school teachers and the brothers mechanics.

MEDINA, Mar. 7.—W. D. Baldwin, local newspaper proprietor and editor, has been appointed grand prelate of the grand commandry of the Knight Templars of Ohio, succeeding Rev. George W. Bunton who has moved from Dayton to California.

Take Care of Your Cold

Guard against Grippe, "Flu" and Pneumonia—Rub Musterole on Throat, Chest and Back

Grippe, Influenza and treacherous Pneumonia all start with a cold, so guard against these dangers before your cold gets deeply seated.

At the first sign of a cold (which is just congestion) bring your circulation back to normal by rubbing Musterole on your throat, chest and back. Musterole is a counter-irritant which warms up the body quickly and sets the blood surging through the congested parts.

Remember the good old-fashioned mustard plaster that was grandmother's standby? Musterole has all of the good qualities of that messy old mustard plaster without the sting and blister.

Made of pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, it penetrates the pores and goes straight to the seat of trouble.

During the "Flu" epidemic several years ago, Musterole was used in our army training camps and the Y. M. C. A. War Board sent thousands of jars to our soldiers in France.

If you are feverish, if you ache all over, rub on good old Musterole, take a hot bath, drink plenty of hot water and go to bed and call your doctor. Keep good and warm and see that there is plenty of fresh air in your room.

Musterole has been used for years and is recommended by doctors for Sore Throat, Pleurisy, Headache, Neuralgia, Croup, Lumbago, Grippe, "Flu" and Pneumonia. Apply the healing ointment with your finger tips, rubbing it gently into the affected parts. First you will experience a warm tingling glow, then a refreshing cooling sensation. Thousands of families keep Musterole always on their bathroom shelf ready for colds and other emergencies.

All druggists; 35c and 65c, jars and tubes. Hospital size, $3.00.

How the Home Makes Loans

MONEY deposited in the HOME is loaned to builders of homes. A first mortgage, on the real estate and building is taken as security for the loan.

—Before a loan is made, the property is thoroughly inspected by our board of appraisers. Then the proposed loan is discussed by the Executive Committee, who consider the value of the building and its location, the character of the applicant, and his ability to repay the loan by regular monthly payments. If all conditions are right the loan is made—at about half the value of the property.

—That is why the HOME has never lost a dollar of money for any customer.

STOMACH TROUBLES CAUSE LACK OF PEP AND DANGEROUS GAS

Wimmer-Arnold Drug Store Has Wonder Capsules Which Promptly Relieve and Prevent Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Constipation

If you are too fat or too thin—if you lack that desirable American quality known as "pep" and "go"—if you have annoying, dangerous gas the chances are there is something wrong with your digestion. Dyspepsia, indigestion and kindred ailments of the stomach and digestive tract are prevalent among American people because we eat fast and at irregular times. Strong, vigorous people are able to stand the strain for a time, but sooner or later the digestive organs rebel. They cannot stand overeating and the abuse of irregular meals and all sorts of cooking indefinitely.

Undigested Food Poisons

The secretive functions of the stomach become impaired. The digestive fluids become weak and sparse, when they should be strong and abundant to accomplish their work. This results in the food not only becoming unfit for assimilation, but often decomposing in the stomach and poisoning the whole system. Gas is formed, producing a dull, heavy feeling with headache, coated tongue, nausea, fetid breath, heartburn, dizziness, flatulence, biliousness and many other forms of stomach disturbances, which quickly become chronic.

One Capsule Digests 5,000 Grains

Jaques' Little Wonder Capsules save your stomach. They contain a number of reliable and standard medicines acknowledged by authorities to be correctives in certain gastric and intestinal disturbances. One capsule will aid in digesting 5,000 grains of food. Jaque's Little Wonder Capsules relieve disorders of the stomach and digestive tract, quickly correcting the evil in mild and acute cases and gradually relieving chronic and obstinate cases. Some of the ingredients act chemically on the food, aiding digestion and obviating the many disturbances caused by gas; others stimulate the secreting glands and tone up the stomach; still others act as a mild laxative.

Capsules Superior to Pills

Jaques' Little Wonder Capsules provide the quickest and easiest form for relieving indigestion and dyspepsia. Authorities state that the capsule forms a valuable protective carrier for medicines and is far superior to pills or tablets which often become so hard that they cannot be readily assimilated in the stomach and frequently do not dissolve at all, passing solidly through the stomach and bowels. The pure gelatin which forms Jaques' Little Wonder Capsules dissolves within one or two minutes after it enters the stomach. This at once releases the medicine to do its effective work. There is no fuss or bother. You simply take one or two capsules and two or three swallows of water.

Satisfaction Guaranteed

A single capsule usually gives beneficial results. It goes directly to the spot. If taken directly after eating, one capsule will often prevent an attack of indigestion. If taken regularly after each meal for a period of six to ten days such great relief is given that even the most confirmed dyspeptics have been thoroughly convinced of their value.

Presiding Elder's Testimony

Rev. Dr. Thomas G. Thompson, former presiding elder of the Methodist Episcopal church, writing from Johnstown, N. Y., August 12, 1921, says: "I have used Jaques' Little Wonder Capsules as needed for more than twelve years and have always found them beneficial and helpful. They have proven themselves able to give immediate relief when my digestive apparatus for some reason has been thrown out of gear and does not function properly. As I find them easy to take, promptly helpful and so far as I can judge in no sense a habit-forming tonic, I try to keep a small supply ready for use, as they may be needed. I highly recommend them."

If you suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or constipation get Jaques' Little Wonder Capsules today and begin at once to get the results of the renewed vigor that comes with perfect digestion.

On sale by The Wimmer-Arnold Drug Store, Coshocton, O., or 60 cents by mail postpaid for large package from Jaques Capsule Co., Plattsburg, N. Y.

AT THE MYSTIC

"THE SQUAWMAN" A GREAT PLAY

Snedeker's California Stock Company Pleases Full House

Snedeker's California Stock Company presented their fortieth play "The Squaw Man" at the Mystic last night to a crowd that taxed the seating capacity of the theatre. The offering was one of note and was well done both from an acting and scenic standpoint. The tragic ending of the play was out of the ordinary and sent the audience homeward bound with something to think about. Bobby Hall a Coshocton boy who has not appeared locally since 1910, played the part of Big Bill. He not only looked, but acted the part in a creditable manner. Little Gilmer Harrington did the part of little Bert and tho only five years old she gave a pleasing and flawless performance. Virgil White also appeared in the cast and gave a nice delineation of his part. It is needless to say that the regular members of this excellent company gave their usual painstaking and creditable performance. This play runs Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Truth About The "Flu"

How To Ward Off and Prevent Infection

"Flu" History.

The 1918 epidemic of influenza showed that the disease was one easily contracted, it is limited to human beings; it is due to micro-organisms yet to be identified. Mental condition will not cause the disease—so don't worry.

Disease Transmitted.

The causative agent of the disease is given off from the nose and mouth of infected persons, and gains entrance through the nose and mouth of persons who contract the disease—there is no other way in which the disease is transmitted.

Cold and "Flu" Germs.

Cold, "Flu" and Pneumonia Germs multiply by the millions and are liable to overpower your physical resistance.

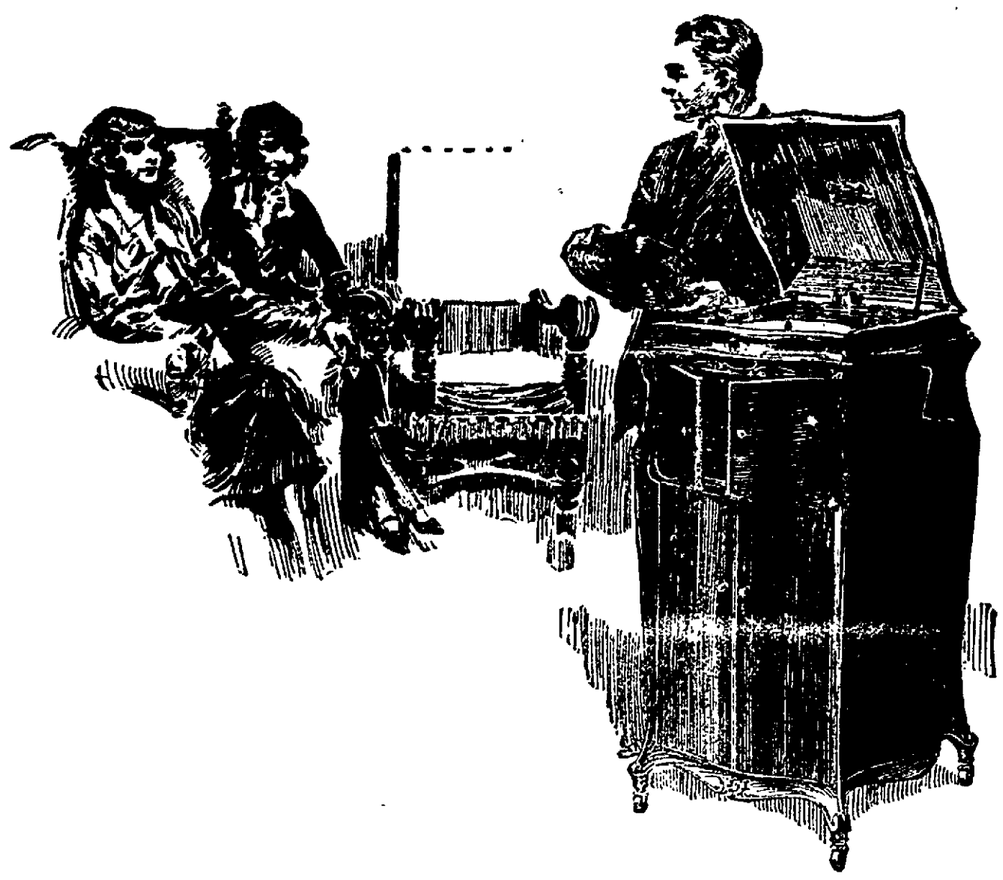

Do not neglect the slightest cold—here the greatest danger lies—that "simple cold." Kill that cold quickly.

It is of vast importance to clean out the entire, intestinal tract, upper and lower bowels. Keep the kidneys well flushed, and freshen and strengthen the blood.

Experience Has Taught.

The experience of the 1918 epidemic showed that one of the best and simplest treatment in many instances was to stimulate the entire blood circulation by taking a steaming hot cupful of Bulgarian Blood Tea with the juice of half a lemon.

This stimulating hot medicinal Tea is pleasant to take and starts the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys throwing out the body poisons, thus increasing the physical resistance to overpower the dreaded germs. Bulgarian Blood Tea is a pure herb medicine of rare power for old and young of either sex and should be in every home as a necessary first aid remedy. Physicians and druggists everywhere highly recommend it.

6TH ST. THEATRE

"SOME GIRL"

Coming to 6th St. Theatre Tuesday, March 14

"Some Girl," the very latest of American made musical comedies, is announced by Messrs. LeComte and Flesher for an early presentation at the Sixth Street Theatre very soon.

Lilting melodies, a rapid change of scenes, a plot with a climax and a "sunshine" chorus, all combine to ensure a full evening of pleasure.

The music is the whistling sort that you will remember. The plot provides for a proper amount of love scenes, carries the audience to sunny Brittany, the Reviera, picturesque Mexico and busy New York and ends happily.

Much care and attention have been bestowed by the management in the selection of its "beauty chorus," and it is claimed they not only look sweet, but they sing and dance just as sweetly.

Among the principals may be mentioned such well known names as Gudrun Walberg, Allan Carter, Marguerite Williams, Tom Crowley and Lottie Proctor.

The musical numbers include such popular gems as the theme song, "My Sunshine Lady," "I Miss You Honey, 'Deed I Do," "Mere Man," "The Vampire Lady" and a half score or more of sure fire "hits."

This engagement is for one day only.

The orchestra will be augmented for this engagement as the company carries several musicians.

Can You See Your Ribs?

"It wasn't that I wanted to get fat,—no. I just wanted to put on about 8 pounds more flesh, then I'd be just right. I've nibbled at diets, gorged big meals, I've haunted health resorts, been to fine climates, guzzled milk, buttermilk, olive oil, emulsions, swallowed pills, digestion fads, and a score of other 'won't-works'. Finally, it dawned on me. None of these things was building up the new red blood cells I needed. I took S. S. S., the greatest red-blood-cell builder, firm-flesh producer, blood-cleanser known. I put on 7 pounds in a month, and my nerves, instead of strings feel like wires. S. S. S. has the world beat."

S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable in its medicinal ingredients. It has produced amazing results in building up run-down, thin-faced, ambitious men, and in making women of all ages more plump and beautiful, and younger looking. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

S. S. S. Will Build You Up.

Infinite To Infinite

SCIENCE, the possession of which is perhaps the only unique characteristic of this period of human history, is constantly retreating beyond the reach of the average man. Research is recondite, and understanding of what is transpiring at the scientific front becomes the precious possession of the few. Only rarely do the high priests come out of their sanctuaries to make known the visions they have seen. When they do emerge, however, they indeed bear gifts.

What a vista was opened by Sir Ernest Rutherford, who lectured the other day before the Chemical Society of London on the artificial disintegration of the atom! When most middle-aged folk were in school the atom was the ultimate dream of smallness and unity. Beyond the atom, imagination failed. That elder conception was smashed when Mme. Curie and her husband isolated radium. How completely gone it is one gathers from the observations or Sir Ernest. The British physicist is engaged in the endeavor of the ancient alchemists. He would discover the secret of the transmutation of metals. To his London audience he described the steps he had taken in this direction. He spoke of shooting aluminum atoms apart by a constant fire of alpha particles. How infinitely small is the scale on which this operation proceeds may be guessed from the fact that a hundred million atoms would be necessary to bridge a penny piece. Yet each one has its nucleus and its revolving satellites, fairly comparable in motion and in position to our solar system.

At the other end of the scale come the overwhelming announcements of the new discoveries of the astronomers. Photographs made at the Flagstaff (Ariz.) Observatory give suggestions of size in space quite beyond the capacity of the human mind to realize. The nebula of Andromeda revealed a sun of almost inconceivable magnitude, while the idea of universe piled upon universe endlessly thru space is bred by the new vision of the stars. Thus the view of man is pushing out from the atom infinitely small to the nebula infinitely great, while a philosophy adequate to explain what science permits the race to perceive is still but a vague hope.

For An American Marine

SHIP subsidies are probably more unpopular in the United States than they ought to be in a country which has long been applying the subsidy principle to other industries by means of the protective tariff. The subject is not one to be considered in the light of political history or existing prejudice. The whole question is not whether the government should enrich private ship owners, but whether the consumer and taxpayer is willing to invest a dollar or so a year in a merchant marine. Unless the government assists the shipping companies, either by direct payments or by special privileges and exemptions, American ships will soon disappear from the high seas.

Mr. Harding has made out the usual case, partly sentimental, partly practical, for the preservation of the merchant fleet. The sentimental reasons will naturally occur to any one who loves the sea or admires the type of man which the sea produces. A good deal of nonsense has been uttered on this subject, but there is a core of solid fact. Seafaring men give salt and flavor out of proportion to their numbers. The least provincial of us may rejoice in seeing his country's goods carried by ships manned by its own citizens and flying its own flag. Mr. Harding didn't touch on the troublesome fact that the only way to get American boys to hunt careers at sea is to make their wages and working conditions more attractive than the prospective beneficiaries of the subsidy have ever been willing to do.

A practical reason for encouraging the merchant marine is, of course, that it gives us greater control over our own sea-borne commerce, and removes one means by which our commercial rivals discriminate against us. Another reason, which Mr. Harding kept touching on and shying away from, is the defensive one. The limitation upon capital ships makes the naval value of merchant ships greater than ever before.

Such are the arguments, good and bad, for a subsidy. The subsidy itself, as Mr. Harding outlines it, is to be, directly, less expensive than was thot. The first cost will not be more than $25,000,000 a year, the ultimate cost not more than $30,000,000. Ship owners who earn more than 10 per cent. net must put half the surplus into a fund from which the government will be repaid. The bulk of the amount needed will be taken from customs receipts. This, of course, a mere pittance compared with the enormous sum lost thru the shrinkage or disappearance of the money invested in ships by the government during and just after the world war. The sale of ships at present world prices, which is part of the scheme, constitutes the real subsidy.

The proposal would not be a dangerous one if it were accompanied by evidence that the government meant to regulate shipping closely, enforce economies, and preserve American wage standards. In the absence of such assurances it is not a thing to be swallowed whole.

New York Day-By-Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Mar. 7. — Wall Street, they will tell you, has a heart of flint Perhaps it has—but it is moved by the spiritual emotion daily. It is true that there is a "Wall Street face"—a coldly chiseled, hawk-eyed tight lipped visage with the jaw that snaps with a steel click. It is a face outwardly calloused to human sympathy.

Beggars find scant pickings in this narrow gulch and "hard luck" stories are generally hooted. Wall Street is used to seeing white faced victims trapped in the changing markets, plucked, rolled and shunted to obscurity. Every day may be another "Black Friday."

And still in no other part of this vast city does a daily sermon draw the crowd that it does in Wall Street.

The preacher is a venerable figure whose hair has been whitened by the frost of many winters. Rain or snow, he stands at mid-day on his soap box in the thick of the money changers, in the very shadows of the marble facade of the Stock Exchange.

New York knows him as "The Bishop of Wall Street" and his theme is that all men should be honest. Wall Street does not curl its lip in a sneer—it listens in respectful silence, captains of industry, clerks and sandwich eating messenger boys.

And when the Bishop leads them in singing "Nearer My God to Thee" the rising swell of the hymn may be heard in Broadway above the roar. When the Bishop kneels in the street in prayer, his audience uncovers its head, bows and mumbles its lips.

A half hour later it may be milling about with maniacal fury at the sound of gongs but it has its few moments of spiritual repose. The Bishop has seen men whose names dazzled the money marts one day come back the next deaten and broken.

"In the hour of their despair, they turn as naturally to God as the flower opens its petals to the sunshine," he says. It was 22 years ago that the Bishop preached his first sermon from a soap box. There are countless men in Wall Street who, when asked their religion, reply: "I belong to the Bishop's church."

Many East Side children of the slums have never seen a tree. Those who are taken in the charity buses to Central Park for the first time express their greatest surprise at the sight of the stately elms and oaks.

Montague Glass tells of an East Side child—a dirty faced boy—who was taken on a charity picnic. In an open space in Jersey he exclaimed. "Hully Gee, look at the boid!"

"Well it makes a noise like a 'boid'," was the reply.

One of the leading theatrical producers, a man in a position to know told me, has been averaging $15,000 a week net on his productions for nearly a year. He lives in regal splendor with a dozen motor cars, town houses, country homes and a villa at Palm Beach. Still he is unhappy. All his life he has had an ambition to act. And he has more than the ordinary ability along this line but he has never been able to overcome his fear of facing an audience. One night he was in the wings during an opening of a production. Some one started the cry for the producer. The star suddenly grabbed him by the hand and dragged him out on the stage. He broke away, ordered the curtain down and discharged the star on the spot. The next day he went to a sanitarium for three weeks to prevent a complete nervous collapse.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

AN APPRECIATION

Editor The Tribune:

The mower mows on—tho the adder may writhe,
Or the copperhead coil 'round the blade of his scythe."

Henry George is dead, tho he still lives. He is one of the living who has died Great lives do not go out, they go on.

Henry George was truly a studious and laborious man who took the business of life earnestly in hand, determined to know something, and to be useful to his time and country and to the world.

He was appreciative of the many things which had come to him thru centuries of civilization, and endeavored so to live that his efforts would be such as to ameliorate the conditions of mankind, knowing full well that the general aim of mankin dis happiness.

Mr. George believed that our mission is to serve humanity first Oh, it's great, and there is no other greatness, to make some nock of God's creation more fruitful, better, more worthy of God, to make some human heart a little wiser, manlier, happier, more blessed, less accursed.

He was filled with the spirit of brotherhood, and brotherhood is the biggest word in the Christian religion.

He strove determinedly for the reign of justice, and sought to impress the people that a developed sense of moral obligation is the only durable cement of civilized society, and that by the degree of its comprehensiveness the progress of a nation and the human race can be measured.

He was sympathetic, and was much grieved that men of genius, men of prominence, men of wealth, men of educated intelligence, but devoid of moral principles, were unaffected by scenes which might send tears of sorrow down Pluto's iron cheek.

He was a highly moral man, as was attested by his great interest in a form of taxation which would get rid of methods of taxation which necessarily promote fraud, perjury, bribery and corruption, which leads men to temptation, and which tax what the nation can least afford to spare—honesty and conscience.

He possessed a passion for justice and truth and a strong love for order and progress.

He was economical, and economy itself is a great virtue. He well knew that economic laws work in full, sooner or later, in spite of delays, obstructions, cross currents or superficial influences.

The duties and responsibilities of life weighed heavily upon him, and he was much interested in teaching people their social rights and social responsibilities.

He was industrious, and found his life in the doing of it. He was affectionate, which quality helped to increase his intellectual and active powers.

His life was one, not of ease and affluence; he knew the meaning of adversity and dire poverty.

He was a man of good judgment and held tenaciously to the guiding thread of reason. He could see the universal in the local, and sought to weave threads of humanity in his schemes for national well-being.

He possessed great love for humanity, and love is the essence of God.

He was opposed to oppression brot on by man's greed and ignorance and blindness to the spark of God in his fellow man, and sought to change the attitude of men whose hearts were steeled against the appeal of humanity, the appeal of Service that was sounded by the Master.

He was religious as was shown by his complete attitude toward the complete universe. His belief in immortality was as staunch as a rock. As an evidence of the immortality of the soul he stated as follows: "The creation of human beings is purposeless if that is all." The Christian Advocate published an article by Henry George, and in it we find statements as follows: "for which the Master told his disciples to pray." "I may fairly presume, believe, as I believe, that there is a world for us beyond this." "Since we cannot conceive of a Heaven in which the equal rights of God's children to their Father's bounty is denied, as we now deny them on this earth, what is the duty enjoined on Christians by the daily prayer, 'Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done, on earth, as it is in Heaven."?

Mr. George by many is regarded as one of those leaders of men who rise above the sordid level of things as they are, who seek to revive the spirit and power of Christianity, who seek to enrich the humble intellect with humane and generous ideas, who create in the minds of all noble ambition—new spheres of philanthropy and justice. All his life long he spoke, and wrote, and thot, and prayed, and dreamed of only one thing—the cause of the plain people against corruption and despotism.

He was a thinker whose work belongs to the world of literature. His death carried mourning into every civilized country on the globe. As a thinker, philosopher, writer he was truly great, possessed of genial manners and outspoken democracy, penetrating logic and passionate eloquence. But he was greatest as an apostle of the truth as he saw it—an evangelist, carrying the doctrines of justice and brotherhood to the remotest corners of the earth.

He was interested in the success of industry and thrift, and in this connection said: "If we tax houses there will be fewer houses, if we tax machinery, there will be less machinery; if we tax trade, there will be less trade; if we tax capital, there will be less capital; if we tax savings, there will be less savings. All the taxes therefore that we should abolish are those that repress industry and lessen wealth."

Unlike many men, who love to deceive themselves by the delusions which their imagination creates, and thus become only too often the architects of their own misfortune, he believed in principles of taxation whose adherents are much more numerous at present than when Mr. George lived. Opponents to Mr. George's principles of taxation have confined themselves largely to the Uniform Rule, which method has become antiquated, as is evidenced by the actions of forward-looking men in their attempts and suggestions as to a more satisfactory and reliable system of taxation.

The law of human progress, what is it but the moral law? So Henry George believed. All his life long he spoke, and wrote, dreamed of only one thing—the cause of the plain people against corruption and despotism. And he died with his armor on, his sword flashing, in the front of the battle, scaling the breastworks of entrenched corruption and despotism.

He died as he lived. He died a hero's death. He died as he would have wished to die—on the battle field, spending his last strength in a blow at the enemies of the people. Fearless, honest, unsullied, uncompromising Henry George.

(Editor's Note—The above substantial tribute to Mr. George was written by a resident of this city, one of the most widely known and highly respected men of the county. For reasons he thot sufficient he requested that his name be omitted in the paper. His request has been granted, but we believe much weight would have been added to the communication had the author consented to the use of his name.)

SHE BATTLES ON

Editor The Tribune:

What's the matter with you men correspondents that you can't stick to the subject? You are not discussing the modern girl, you are talking about "Race Suicide," "Birth Control," "Animal Instinct,, Marriages" and 'Scriptural Law."

I confess that I know very little about these subjects. Why not bring in Taxation, Teacher's Pension, Soldiers' Bonus and New Amendments? I might discuss these latter intelligently if I were not an "ignorant woman."

I wonder if Mr. Sanders's mother, wife or sister taught him to be abusive? Go back to them, Mr. Sanders, and let them make a gentleman of you, then you will be sorry that you quarreled, prevaricated and raved like a wild man in the Open Forum.

As for me, "Where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise." Also when quoting my letters, please state them correctly.

After writing "the hand that rocks, etc.," he says "take your cue here and get in the limelight." Isn't he funny? How many mothers are in the limelight? What were they doing there, Mr. Sanders, taking in washings? We don't want our mothers in the limelight; they are too sacred. You men don't know what you are talking about when you discuss wonderful mothers, for only a mother can appreciate her mother's wonder. One must go thru motherhood to appreciate its real value.

Mr. Kuhn helped a lot, but you surely didn't read Mr. Wallace's editorial or Mr. Lawrence's letter. Your defenders are not even real. There is no Winfield Barton. He, himself is so ashamed of his folly that he won't sign his own name. You said, we girls can't take care of ourselves. Isn't one girl holding up her sex against about eight or ten men? You ought to win.

All fathers are not alike, Mr. Gilmore. My father not only starts the fire but also helps to get breakfast and in sickness he is as gentle as mother. As for my husband, I haven't met him, therefore I don't know what kind of father he is. Your father, I hope, is all right, but what kind of a father will you be.

Now for you, Mr. Davis, can't I admire a girl with bobbed hair without bobbing my hair? Can't I stand up for single girls whether I marry or not? I'm not the subject, and remember, I'm admiring the modern girl, not myself.

I don't mind Mr. McKlever's criticism as it seems to be mostly on my side but after you men have used all the arguments in the Bible, he says, "leave the Bible out."

Perhaps he fears I might remind you of what happened to Samson when Delilah cut his hair. You fellows might have strength enough to overcome my letters if you'd let your hair grow.

Gee, won't some men open their eyes and rave when they see our April outfits: Russia boots, knickerbocker suits, stiff collars, bow ties, plain sailor hats, gauntlets and short hair!

Mr. Sanders said our dress was created in the notorious underworld. No, it was created from a necessity for comfort and to save expense in time of war. We had to conserve goods, make substantial clothing and wear something in which we might be farmers, mechanics, doctors, nurses, lawyers, mothers, bankers or anything. Our outfit had to suit any and all occasions. It still does, and will, until the girl of today is no more.

AUDRA McCORMICK.

WALT MASON

KEEPING HIS WORD

Jinks Jinkens always kept his word thruout his useful years, and when his funeral occurred the town was wet with tears. We'd planted bards at sundry times, and famous statesmen, too, and pultocrats whose stock of dimes was something fierce to view; and while we grieved to note their doom, and see their projects bust, we only wept around each tomb enought to lay the dust. For gifted gents and famous gents and gents with gorgeous rolls are commoner than twenty cents, and oft have tawdry souls. But when you meet that human bird with sunshine on his brow, who never goes back on his word, take off your hat and bow. He says he'll pay you what he owes when clocks are striking eight, and though through storm and fire he goes, he'll promptly keep the date. No promise lightly leaves sis lips, but when his pledge is made, he never fails, he never slips, his word must never fade. He's an example to the town, a landmark good to see; and when at last we lay him down beneath a churchyard tree, the briny tears in streamlets roll like waters in a rill, and in the town there is a holt it will be hard to fill.

They'll Run, Naked

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—Sedition and disloyalty by aliens in the United States would be punishable by deportation and seizure of their property under the terms of a bill introduced in the house today by Representative Lanbeiger, Wisconsin.

HAD CLOSE SHAVE

"My wife and children thought I was dying when, after an attack of acute pains in my stomach, I became unconscious. It was right after our Sunday dinner. They say I looked like dead and guess I had a pretty close shave. I had been having more or less stomach trouble and bloating with gas for past two years and could get no permanent help. Talking with a friend about my attack, he advised me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I have not had any gas or stomach trouble since taking it eighteen months ago." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Wimmer Arnold Drug Co., and druggists everywhere.

NOTICE

Ex-Squire E. G. Abbott, having recently resigned his position as Justice of the Peace of Tuscarawas-tp, wishes to announce to the general public who are indebted to his docket for costs, will please call and settle with Squire D. W. Bassett, successor to E. G. Abbott, who is duly authorized to collect the same. Prompt action on your part may save you from paying more costs. He also wishes to add that during his ten years of service he can say that while many knotty problems have come to him to be solved, he believes he holds the good fellowship of the great majority of his customers and that if he has made mistakes they have been errors of the head and not of the heart. The real cause of his resignation, he wants more exercise. I wish especially to thank the county officials and their attaches, and the attorneys who practice in the courts for their helpful kindness shown to me during my term of office. I am open for a position suitable to my calibre. I must be employed. I have never failed thus far to find employment, with one exception, that was during the world war. I made application to Secretary Baker for a position preferably on the other side of the water. He sent me a blank form to fill out as to my age and my military descriptive roll, and I presume when he saw that he made up his mind that a traveling hospital better stay on this side. So he presented me with a button with these letters inscribed thereon: U. S. P. S. R. Meaning United States Public Service Reserve. I was ready but the war was ended without my service; but it did not miss my youngest boy.

Respectfully E. G. ABBOTT.

INTERNATIONALE IS COURTING RADICALS

COPENHAGEN, Mar. 7. M. Zinoviev who has been attending the meeting of the executive committee of the Third Internationale at Moscow, proposes that the Russians call an international economic conference for the proletariat to offset the results of the economic conference of the capitalistic governments at Genoa ,says a dispatch from Moscow today.

This is evidently intended as the first move in the proposal to extend the scope of the third internationale to include the extremist labor organizations in all countries.

STOMACH BAD, END INDIGESTION WITH DIAPEPSIN

"Pape's Diapepsin" relieves stomach distress in five minutes. You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad or an uncertain one—or a harmful one- your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs. Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large sixty-cent case from any drug store and then if you should eat something which doesn't agree with you, if what you eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all indigestion vanishes. It is the most efficient antacid known—the certainty and ease with which it overcomes stomach and digestive disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

Gas Is Too High

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7—The eighty cent gas rate law of New York state was declared invalid by the supreme court of the United States today. The decision of the court was read by Associate Justice McReynolds

The New York state law of 1906 required the supplying of gas to portions of New York city and Brooklyn at 80 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. The federal district court held the price confiscatory and the law invalid.

A HOT RECEPTION AWAITS FLORIDA LIQUOR SMUGGLERS

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7—Prohibition officials today were getting set to spring upon the Florida liquor smugglers.

Col. L. G. Nutt, long one of Mr. Haynes chief aids, left Washington today for Florida. Along with him went a big staff of trained men in enforcement work. There also were in the party a group of experts from the revenue service.

Before Col. Nutt reaches points in Florida where the drive is to be launched, agents who have gone there from different states for temporary duty, will be operating under the state prohibition director.

Col. Nutt's main effort it is understood will be to break up the smugglers' system around the Florida Keys. He will make vigorous efforts to clean up the situation at Key West and waters adjacent to it, and may engineer a number of raids, which have been carefully planned.

Several agents may be detailed to go to Cuba to assist in the effort to crack up the smuggling problem on the Cuban side.

Built to Last!

LIGHT-SIX SEDAN $1750
f. o. b. Factory

Your satisfaction with a Sedan depends largely upon construction you'll never see. Since you can't see it, you want to be all the more certain what's there.

And the chances are you'll buy from the manufacturer in whom you have the greatest confidence.

Studebaker's reputation for fine coach work was established in your grandfather's time.

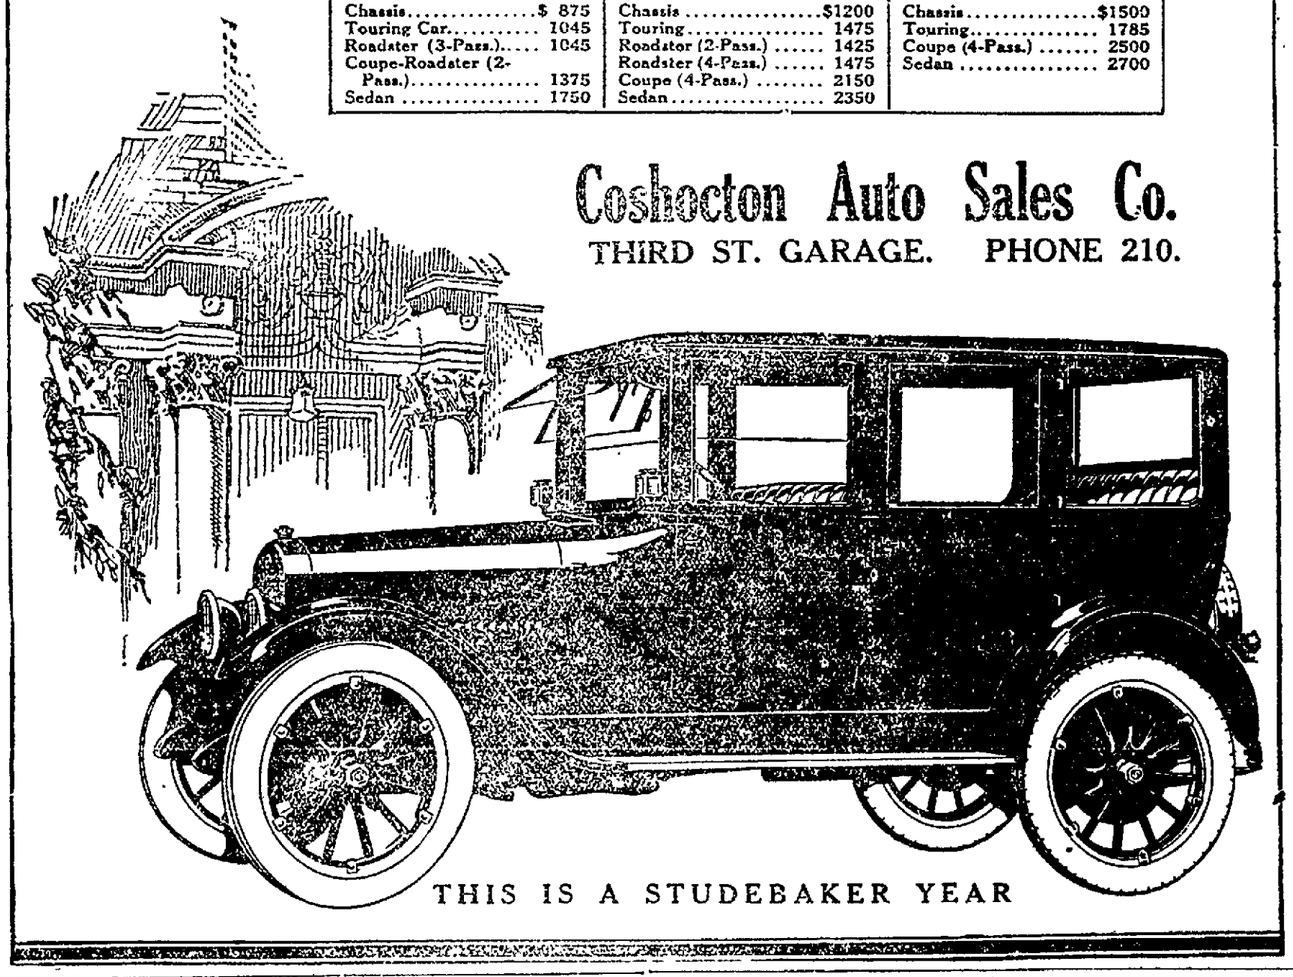

This LIGHT-SIX Sedan body is built complete in Studebaker plants and is as good as the chassis. It will last, without rattles or squeaks, as long as the chassis—and that's longer than the average life of many other cars. There's nothing flimsy about this body. It has a sturdy frame-work of selected ash, the best lumber for the purpose that can be bought.

Eight stout ash pillars, running from floor to roof, insure permanent strength and rigidity which means freedom from body rattles. The joints of the steel panels of the outer surface are perfectly welded. Doors are hung with great precision—open freely and close with a sound of finality. Windows open without binding, yet are so firmly set that they are rattle-proof.

And unless you choose a Sedan with the quietness and flexibility of the LIGHT-SIX motor you will be disappointed.

WAS A BROKEN-DOWN WOMAN

Then I Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicines

Donaldsonville, La.—"I write with pleasure to praise your medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—which has done so much to restore my health. I was a broken-down woman until my husband brought me a bottle of your Vegetable Compound and one of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine. I had been having pains every month and at intervals between, was weak and seemed to be smothering at times, but in a week I felt like another woman. I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. It did me a lot of good too. I cannot praise your medicines too much and will be more than glad to recommend them to any woman who is suffering from female troubles. You may print my testimonial, as it is true."—Mrs. T. A. LANDRY, 612 Miss. St. Donaldsonville, La.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

The Public Knows Less About Errors of Vision
